

ACTA Air Canada Awards

The Association of Canadian Travel Agencies (ACTA) is the national trade association representing the retail travel sector of Canada's tourism industry. ACTA strives to promote excellence within the trade, and has six awards to recognize the best in the Canadian travel retail industry.

The ACTA Air Canada Awards recognize excellence across a broad range of categories, gathering nominations from professionals in the travel industry as well as recognition from a judging panel appointed by ACTA.

Award Categories

(1) Leisure Travel Agent

Recognizes a Travel Agent who shows versatility and has extensive knowledge of many travel options available to their clients. This individual has the ability to keep the client excited about planning their dream holiday and always delivers.

(2) Corporate Travel Agent

Recognizes a Travel Agent who delivers excellent service to clients, living up to expectations and demands in a timely and efficient manner. This individual must have a good understanding of client's needs from a global perspective, including destination knowledge, policies, visas, and many other travel requirements.

(3) Tomorrow's Leader

Recognizes a young potential leader who has shown divested interest in issues that influence the future of travel and who is a role model for other young professionals.

(4) Maguire-Wamsley Award

Recognizes the individual who achieves the highest combined mark on the ACTA Certified Travel Manager (CTM) exam and case studies who also works in an ACTA member agency.

(5) Ches Chard Award

This Award was established in memory of Ches Chard. Ches played a key role in developing numerous educational programs within the industry and was instrumental in establishing the first travel school in the Atlantic Provinces.

The recipient will be an individual, a travel agency or a group of travel agencies that has demonstrated a significant commitment to professionalism, education and training and excellence in human resources management.

(6) Gerald Heifetz Trailblazer Award

This Award was established in memory of Gerald Heifetz. Gerald helped travel agents, business people and countless struggling immigrants through his law practice. He was instrumental in the foundation of ACTA and CITC. Along the way he established many of the laws that today, govern the Canadian travel and airline industry.

The recipient will be an individual or organization who in the most recent year has had the greatest positive impact on the role, status and condition of the Canadian Travel Industry.

Award Criteria

(1) Leisure Travel Agent

Candidates for the Leisure Travel Agent Award must meet the following eligibility requirements in order to be nominated:

- must be a Certified Travel Consultant (CTC) or Certified Travel Manager (CTM) in good standing;
- must be working in an ACTA Member Agency at the time selection is made;
- must not be a current employee or an officer or a director of ACTA at any time during the yearly period for which the award will be awarded; and
- must have been a Travel Agent for at least two years.

(2) Corporate Travel Agent

Candidates for the Corporate Travel Agent Award must meet the following eligibility requirements in order to be nominated:

- must be a working ACTA Travel Agent member in good standing at the time selection is made;
- must not be a current employee, officer or director of ACTA at any time during the yearly period for which the award will be given; and
- must have been a Travel Agent for at least two years.

(3) Tomorrow's Leader

Candidates for the Tomorrow's Leader Award must meet the following eligibility requirements in order to be nominated:

- must be a working ACTA Travel Agent member in good standing at the time selection is made; and
- must not be a current employee, officer or director of ACTA at any time during the yearly period for which the award will be given.

(4) Maguire-Wamsley Award

Candidates will be predetermined based on the grade received by individuals who completed the ACTA Certified Travel Manager (CTM) exam and case studies. To be eligible for the Maguire-Wamsley Award exam participants must meet the following eligibility requirements in order to be nominated:

- must be an ACTA Travel Agent member in good standing at the time selection is made;
- must not be a current employee, officer or director of ACTA at any time during the yearly period for which the award will be given; and
- must have received the highest combined mark on the ACTA Certified Travel Manager (CTM) exam and case studies.

(5) Ches Chard Award

Candidates for the Ches Chard Award must meet the following eligibility requirements in order to be nominated:

- must be an ACTA member in good standing at the time selection is made;
- owner/manager must not be a current official officer of ACTA; and
- must have been in business for at least two years.

(6) Gerald Heifetz Trailblazer Award

Candidates for the Gerald Heifetz Trailblazer Award must meet the following eligibility requirements in order to be nominated:

- must be an ACTA member in good standing at the time selection is made;
- must not be a current employee, officer or director of ACTA at any time during the yearly period for which the award will be given; and
- has not been awarded in the past.

Rules and Regulations

Businesses or individuals are encouraged to nominate themselves or others for consideration using the Nomination Form.

All awards require a 250-word piece to support the nomination in order to demonstrate how the nominee meets criteria for the award.

Recognitions will be awarded on a national basis and finalists will be recognized at Travel MarketPlace on June 13, 2017. A judging panel appointed by ACTA will select one national award-winner for each category.

Winner Recognition

- An award will be presented at Travel MarketPlace on June 13, 2017.
- News release with media pickup.
- Posting on the ACTA Website.